

I find the consolidation of local media outlets within a single corporation to be very disturbing. Democracy is not about having one corporation owning both radio and newspaper media in a single area. You should be encouraging media diversity, not the opposite.